FOREWORD

Before we turn our attention to the future and what it holds in store for us, let us first take a backward glance to the activities of the school year just ending.

In the succeeding pages of this book are recorded some of the activities which have helped to prepare us as useful citizens in a free world; for in addition to vocational training, we have learned the significance of sportsmanship, cooperation, and friendship.

We, of the Wahian staff, believe that these pages will bring to mind that familiar line from our Alma Mater, "for with our work we've had fun", which applies most appropriately to this our Senior year which to many of us has been an unforgettable one.

DEDICATION

As graduation approaches, we, the class of "52", are faced with the inevitable, that we must begin to think and act for ourselves. Some of us will seek a higher education while others will look for employment; but no matter who we are or from what side of the tracks we come, we are free to plan our future as we choose. This is part of our future for this is the American way of life.

Our class has chosen for its motto "Today we follow; tomorrow we lead" and so it will be in the future. We, who have been led in our lives by education, will be the leaders of tomorrow in education and government.

With high hopes for the future we, of the graduating class of 1952, dedicate this Wahian to "Our Future" and what it holds in store for us.

Wayne Young

IN MEMORIAM

We dedicate this page to the memory of our classmate, Wayne Young, whose untimely death during our sophomore year grieved us greatly. Wayne left with us a lasting impression of his happy-go-lucky way of life. He was always ready with a joke and a smile for everyone. Now as we look forward to graduation we miss Wayne even more and know that not only the class but the community has suffered a great loss.

Board of Education

TO THE CLASS OF 1952:

The Waynesboro-Mont Alto Board of School Directors wishes to commend you for the successful completion of your high school career.

Prior to the beginning of your last year, Waynesboro and Mont Alto School Districts formed a joint board for the operation of the schools in the two communities under one administration. This event marks the beginning of an attempt of two systems to jointly provide better education facilities.

Thus the class of 1952 becomes the first to be graduated from the Waynesboro-Mont Alto Joint High School.

We wish to extend to you our best wishes for your future. May your contribution to society be in keeping with your ability and your best ideals, and your every effort used to protect your American heritage.

J. B. Mentzer, President
 Waynesboro-Mont Alto
 School Board

'relive the days we've spent with thee'

With the few short steps required to march down the center aisle of the auditorium we close the final page on one of the most important chapters in our book of life.

It seems but yesterday that we began that long trek which was eventually to lead us to this final phase of our public school education.

During the first five years we had our own little groups of class friends; however, in sixth grade we all came together for the first time though our activities were similar to our earlier school days.

Then came Junior High, and from the very beginning we entered into the swing of things by having many of our classmates take an active interest in the extra-curricular activities. Lee Greenawalt and Charles Hartle joined the Little Cyclones to get their first taste of basketball and others became active in Choral Club and Blue and Gold.

Up until the Freshman year we worked as individual homerooms, and now we were a class. The election of Lee Greenawalt as president, Charles Hartle as vice-president, Doris Haugh as secretary, and Margaret Carson as treasurer was our first act as a class. Other than the Freshman dance our activities as a Freshman class were rather stunted.

Finally we were Sophomores and at last Senior High with its lockers, chairs that move and all the other now minor details that dazzle a sophomore.

As sophomores we elected for our class officers Norman Miller, Roberta Beard, Phyllis Miller, and Ray Wagaman.

Now that we had begun to function as a unit it was necessary that we procure some money to defray expenses. This we accomplished by putting on two one-act plays, "She Stoops to Conquer"; and "But Now There's Buford" directed by Mr. John Minnich.

The class' ability, however, was not confined only to the stage but also in band, orchestra, Choral Club, Blue and Gold, on the gridiron, on the basketball court, and on the baseball field.

And thus our sophomore year slipped away from us and we were Juniors.

Once again the class chose Norman Miller to lead them, assisted by David Grove, Marie Kauffman and Ray Wagaman.

This year was to be a big one for us since we were putting on the Junior-Senior Prom. It was therefore once more necessary to amass a large quantity of money, and once again we turned to Mr. Minnich who directed our plays, "Stoney's Brides," and "The Bishop and the Convict."

Besides the plays which were to raise money, we had to officially distinguish ourselves as a class by choosing the motto, the colors and flower of the class. As motto we chose "Today we follow; tomorrow we lead"; as colors, green and white; and the white carnation was selected for the flower.

The class also prided itself on its fine musicians Joan Merklinger, Melba Smith, Sarah Hawbecker, John Baker, Bob Haner, Paul Heart, Harold Buterbaugh, Bill Shull and Bill Smith who went to county, district and state competitions.

At last it was prom time, there was quite a hussle and bussle to get net for the ceiling and paper for fish, but after a few days work we came up with an underwater scene with a coral castle in the center of the floor and multi-colored fish hanging from the net and walls. And so to the music of Walt Sheldon and his orchestra we danced out our junior year.

Happy, but in a dubious way, we entered Senior High last fall for the final phase of our high school career. Though our football team was not outstanding there were many seniors on the team who were a credit to the game and to the school.

For the third straight year Norman Miller was elected president of the class. Other officers were: Lee Greenawalt, vice-president; Marie Kauffman, secretary; and Ray Wagaman, treasurer.

In all extra-curricular activities members of our class either distinguished themselves as officers or members of committees. Roberta Beard edited the Blue and Gold; and David Grove was editor of the Wahian, assisted by Joan Merklinger. The finances of the yearbook were run by business manager, Harold Rowe. Lee Greenawalt distinguished himself as president of the student council, president of the Senior Hi-Y and captain of the varsity basketball squad. The girls Tri-Hi-Y was led by Patsy Thompson and Mary Louise Lehman was the able president of the Tau Kappa Phi Sorority.

In sports, also, our class was outstanding with Ralph Dinterman, Bob Mitchell, Darrell Hutton, Bill L. Smith, Glen Rowe, Bob Haner, Robert Kauffman, Charles Hartle, and Bill Elden starring on the grid. Lee Greenawalt, Charles Hartle, Ralph Dinterman, Bill Elden, Ronny Snowberger, Bill Smith and Ronny Terry as manager represented the class on the basketball court.

At the end of January Mary Louise Lehman, who has been playing the piano for some time for choral club, was chosen to be accompanist for the Southern District Chorus. Once again more of our class were outstanding in county and district band and Melba Smith was awarded a chair in state orchestra.

On February 21 and 22, seventeen thespians of the senior class represented the class for the last time in a class play with their production, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Mr. John Minnich.

There was very little time until the Prom then came the Senior Dance, next Baccalaureate and the Senior dinner. And we were once again assembled in the auditorium with our classmates around us; without time to think we walked up the aisle no longer part of the school but a part of the world.

Now here we are on the threshold of the future looking constantly toward it but, however, having time to turn eyes and look back to Waynesboro High, our Alma Mater.

WHO WOULD HAVE THOUGHT IT

A. "Operator, give me Waynesboro Senior High School please" . . . . .

P. "Hello"

A. "Hello, Patsy, this is Miss Alexander. You know, of course, that I've been on vacation up in New York. Well while there I dropped into Adam's Amalgamated Armatures for Armless Anteaters to see Kenny Adams. I was surprised to find that his secretaries were some of the commercial girls in his class of '52'. They were Doris Haugh, Janet Williams, Marie Kauffman, Lois Ann Yingling, Marty Eigenbrode and Barbara Hovis. After talking with the girls for awhile Mr. Adams and I went to Madison Square Garden to see "Canvas-back" Smith defend his paperweight title against "Killer" Ken Sheffler. Incidentally the match was refereed by Joyce Clopper."

P. "Say, that reminds me, Miss Alexander, I saw the Celtics play at the Garden last Saturday. Our boys, Charlie Hartle, Bill Elden and Ralph Dinterman played like the pro's they are. They ran up 100 points among them."

A. "Speaking of professionals, you should have seen the P. G. A. tournament in Palm Springs, Pat, best golf I've seen in years. Ronney Terry edged out Bob McCardell on the 79th hole to win by one stroke."

P. "Yes, those boys always were good golfers. Did you see in the paper where those three songbirds; Barbara Potter, Mary Louise Lehman and Patsy Welty are appearing at Carnegie Hall under the auspices of that well-known concert pianist, Miss Lois Kisecker? The famous lyric soprano, Miss Joann Haas is also appearing there with her accompanist Jean Good."

A. "No, I missed that but I saw where Dr. Paul Heart and his Laboratory Technician, Miss Sarah Hawbecker, saved the life of William Trace, noted artist, when he swallowed a tube of paint. You know of course that Dr. Heart's secretary by coincidence is Erma Whitmore."

P. "Miss Alexander, you should have been here last week. We had our television set on and tuned in on a skating review put on by Fay Balsiger, Dottie Welty, Shirley Pryor and Teenie Recard. That Recard girl is sure some comedian on skates. After it was over a cooking program came on and I just about died laughing at Perry Minnich and John Leaman demonstrating how to bake a cherry pie. When they were through Alva Brady and Barbara Hyatt saved the show with their own demonstration on the art of cooking."

A. "Incidentally, Pat, have you heard about the big engineering project near Waynesboro? It seems those world-famous engineers: Norman Miller, Bill Shull and John Baker have joined forces and are tackling the gigantic project of constructing a billion dollar bridge which will span Welty's Mill Race. They estimate that it will be completed in the next ten years."

P. "My, if they can do that, they are capable of anything. Well I dropped into Smith's Bowling Alley yesterday and Dottie Martz and Mary Ann Wingert were putting on a bowling exhibition before their tour of the Middle West. They told me that Herman Pyles and Jim McFerren were exploring the Anartic and that Bo Hutton had set a world record of eight seconds for the hundred yard dash in the Olympics."

A. "Say, Pat, your brother-in-law, Dick Manns, and his partner, Fred Cronauer really have a nice appliance shop down town. I thought those boys might end up doing something of that sort because they were always good at fixing and installing appliances. They told me that Harold Buterbaugh was playing in the Navy Band and that Bob Haner is a basso-profundo with Bob Shaw's Chorale. Fred also said that he had just seen David Grove's latest production, "The Great Lovers," starring Roberta Beard and Wib Brown. He told me that Elaine Coffman designed the costumes for Miss Beard."

P. "Yes, I'll never forget those two in their class play. Remember Carol Ann Myers? I saw in Life magazine that she's touring Europe doing monologues."

A. "Boy, the kids in that class of '52' have really gone places. They're scattered all over the world and in about every field you can name."

P. "Yes, they sure were a fine bunch of students and now they're a fine lot of citizens. Before we hang up who do you think will win the presidential election this November?"

A. "Well, Pat, the way I look at it the Democrats will win in a breeze. I don't see how they can lose with that brilliant lawyer, William Z. Smith, as their campaign manager."

P. "Yes, I agree with you. I guess Miss Mary Miller was right when she said some day Lee Greenawalt would be President of the United States. I must catch up on my work. Goodbye for now."

A. "Goodbye, Pat."

Remember everything I told you, Baby

I'm ready to go, Captain

SENIOR THESPIANS

Give Hit Performance

The people who see a class play enjoy it, but they never can know how much fun the cast had while practicing for it.

We were all sure someone would suffer a heart attack by the way some of the cast jumped when the gun went off during the third act.

Due to the grippe we did not have too many rehearsals, at least so David thought, when he told Carol Ann that they had better practice their big scene.

We often wonder why Paul Heart was in such a hurry to finish his lines. Mr. Minnich gave two reasons. Could they have been right?

But, nervous or not, the big night came and the curtain went up on "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay."

JUNIORS

'Few But Strong'

A class of eighty-eight students, we entered our junior year happy to be back at Waynesboro Senior High School. Next to our senior year this was going to be the busiest.

The first event of importance was the election of officers. For the second consecutive time Earl Mentzer was elected president. Our other officers were Ronald Kauffman, vice-president; Joyce Grove, secretary; and Robert Schildt, treasurer.

For our class project we staged three one-act plays in November under the direction of Mr. Minnich. The plays were "Reciprocity", "Pot Luck", and "Charge It Please."

We chose our class colors, which are blue and silver, and selected our class flower, the carnation. "Few but strong" has become our motto. The class song was also written.

At the beginning of our second term we ordered class rings in preparation for our senior year.

In extra-curricular activities the junior class was well represented. We had members on the football, basketball, and baseball teams and we gave our support to the organizations such as dramatics club, Blue and Gold and library club.

Now we are making plans for the Junior-Senior Prom on April 25. This will be the biggest and most thrilling event for the juniors.

This year has been fun and everyone is looking to a successful senior year.

SOPHOMORES

Begin Second Year At Senior High

We came to Senior High this year with less confusion and mix-ups for we are the first Sophomore class to have spent our Freshman year here in Senior High.

Our ranks were increased this year by the Mont Alto students who came here as a result of the jointure.

Our first action as a class was to elect our officers. We elected Ronald Chamberlin, president; Dennis Good, Jr., vice-president; Max Kline, treasurer; and Jean Ringer, secretary.

We Sophomores gave a helping hand to all the extra-curricular activities. Many joined the band, orchestra, Blue and Gold, choral club and the library club. Our boys helped out strongly in football, basketball, and baseball.

As our Sophomore money-making project we staged three one-act plays entitled, "You Too Can Be Charming", "Si, Si, Senorita", and "Candy Goes on a Diet" May 2 under the direction of John E. Minnich.

Under the leadership of our active president and our class advisor, Miss Naomi Hade, our class committees served very well in helping to make the plays a huge success. The plays proved very popular and they helped us overcome our financial worries.

We are looking forward to the better assembly seats and the more social activities which we are entitled to have as Juniors.

FRESHMEN

Look Forward To Senior High Career

On September 2, 1951, 134 newly-promoted Freshmen walked with trembling knees and dry throats onto the paths leading to "The High School." The bell rang and into that cold, frighteningly barren, depressingly formal (so we thought) building we sauntered desperately trying to overcome that feeling of inferiority, especially when the Seniors teased us. They must have had fun with us for being so unconsciously gullible, and just think of the knowing smirks and pitying glances that passed from one face to another behind our backs!

The first few weeks were bedlam! What with changing courses, selecting extra-curricular activities, and switching a class from one period to another because of band, we finally became accustomed to our new schedule and settled down.

Class officers were nominated as our first movement and the following were elected: president, Franklin Woodring; vice-president, Lee Neidenthol; secretary, Eunice Grove; and treasurer, Sylvia Yordy.

These efficient members of our class which were chosen to represent us, ably engineered us through the Freshman Dance, held on March 21, and our class project, a Laurel and Hardy movie, "Swiss Miss."

We were well represented on the sports field and several of our boys made their way to that brilliant limelight after they had proven themselves worthy of much praise.

We got into many scrapes, but we put our best foot forward and came out smiling.

Our Freshman year was the beginning of an adventure—an adventure which shall continue for three more years for most of us, and even beyond that for others.

We might have appeared insignificant the first few weeks, but, although we're not being presumptuous, we are positive we are correct in declaring that we shall achieve great renown as one of the best classes ever to graduate from W. H. S.

'I may not agree with what you say, but I shall defend with my life your right to say it'

In a democracy such as ours, freedom of the press is not only recognized by national standards but by the state school systems as well. Once a month our Blue and Gold staff exercises this freedom with an interesting and informative publication concerning school life in all its phases. Turning the pages you will find the latest in news, classroom quips, a reminder of an all important birthday or the number of points in the most exciting baseball game of the season.

The Blue and Gold is run very much like a city paper with its four pages containing the news, feature, magazine and sports sections. Under the leadership of Mr. Church, these four departments are staffed entirely with students.

' . . . . , and the greatest of these is charity'

Developing a Christian body, mind and spirit is the three-fold purpose of the Tri-Hi-Y. Meeting twice monthly the club participates in many civic activities.

This spirit of friendliness and cooperation was shown in a Thanksgiving basket to a needy family and presents to an orphanage at Christmas.

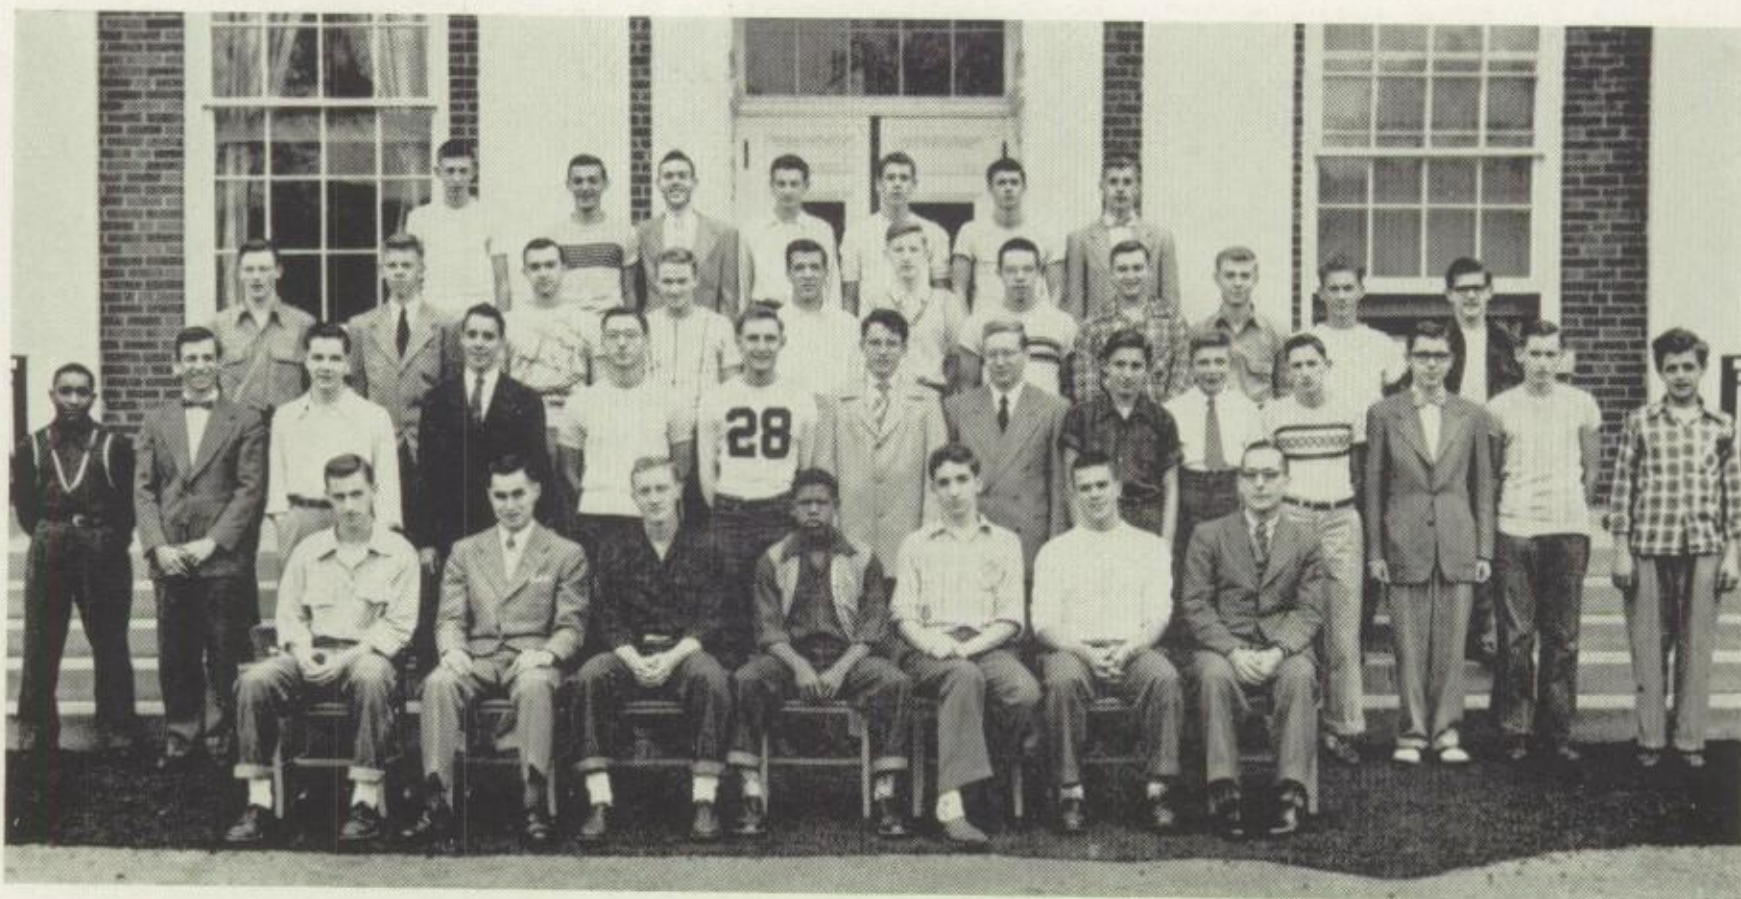

The club is democratic in nature for membership in the club is open to all girls. A cross section of many races and creeds works together in harmony.

The club operates under the joint sponsorship of the High School and the Y. M. C. A. with Mrs. William Church as advisor.

' . . . . and there was light.'

The body, the mind, and the spirit are man's basic needs for a well-rounded personality. The Hi-Y's main purpose is the development of Christian character through this three-fold program.

Jointly sponsored by the Young Men's Christian Association and the high school, the Hi-Y meets twice a month to discuss civic problems and community betterment.

Under the able guidance of Rev. Bitner the boys have done excellent work in creating this Christian activity and maintaining a Christian community.

'We're never 'Without a Song'

From behind the doors marked "Music Room," there can always be heard the swelling of over a hundred voices blending in song. Whether it be a hymn of praise, a Negro spiritual, or a "pop" tune, you can always be sure the Choral Club is on the job.

We were all sorry to see Miss Smith leave; however, Mr. Margolf has proved to be a capable and interesting instructor.

Banded together by a common liking for musical enjoyment, this large organization can always be depended upon to add a great deal of fine music to all the programs and events in which they participate.

Special people for a special job

Whenever a select group is needed to entertain any of our various school or community organizations, the Special Chorus is often called upon to meet the situation.

This small, but balanced choir, consists of outstanding voices chosen from our Choral Club—voices capable of rendering difficult selections with ease though their number is limited.

Working hand in hand with the Choral Club, the Chorus also presents its individual numbers at special holiday programs such as Thanksgiving, Christmas, and Easter.

Miss F. Louise Smith

Miss Smith Retires After Thirty-Six Years

In November of this year Miss Smith ended a long and enviable career of teaching. Miss Smith started as a third grade teacher in the North Street School. In 1919, she became the supervisor of music of the Waynesboro Public Schools.

At this time Miss Smith founded various musical organizations such as the orchestra and the choral club.

Miss Smith visited each of the schools once a week, but as the program grew she took charge of the vocal music department and another instructor was in charge of the instrumental department.

The programs that Miss Smith is probably best known for are the Spring Concerts. These concerts were usually given during Music Week and combined the talents of nearly all the school children in Waynesboro.

Also the Christmas and Easter programs which combined sacred music with a religious pageant were looked forward to each year.

Miss Smith has retired from teaching, but the work which she has done will always be remembered and appreciated.

'All I want is music, music, music,----,'

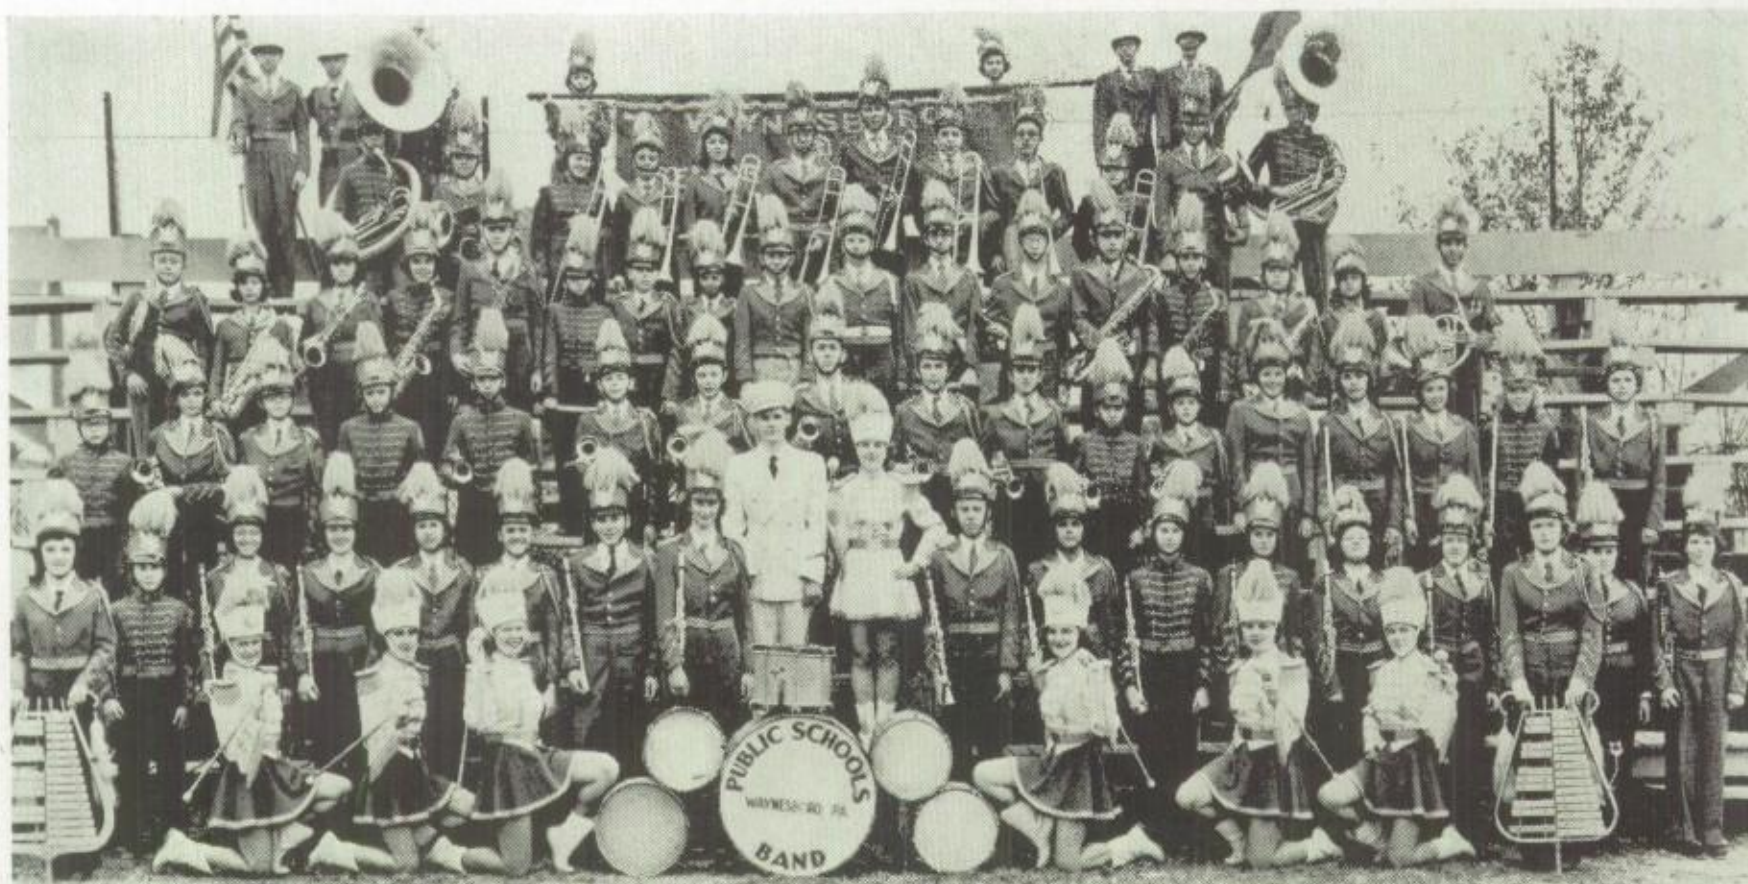

The orchestra pit in the auditorium is in constant use these days as Waynesboro High School's "Symphonette in Miniature" practices diligently for such coming events as the Senior Class play, Commencement, holiday affairs, and various other assemblies. Under the capable baton of Mr. Asher Edelman, the orchestra has lent a helping hand in making many of our school programs a complete musical success.

When the question arises, "Who'll play for our dance?" the first name heard is the "Velvetones." This is the natural response, for the name "Velvetones" has become synonymous with good music and easy listening. With every crowded dance floor increasing its popularity, this fine dance band stands ready to serve both school and community.

'If music be the food of love, play on'

When the stirring strain of a Sousa march heralds the approach of a musical aggregation clad in our traditional blue and gold, all eyes turn to greet one of Waynesboro's most active school organizations.

After completing its annual schedule of football games for the year, the band turned its versatile head towards the more serious matter of concert season.

Several ensembles representing the band have received excellent ratings in state music contests for the past few years. One of these, the brass sextet, has already made a name for itself in the community, and a new ensemble, the woodwind quintet, is sure to do excellent work also.

Entertaining frequently with its full membership of over four score musicians, the school band displays a musical aptitude throughout the entire school calendar of demanding events.

'Art is long, and time is fleeting'

Delving into the mysteries of tempura, water color, chalk and charcoal drawings is the favorite pastime of the Art Club. The club has an open membership and asks only that one show an active interest for self-improvement in art.

Expressing their originality and aptness in every form of art from finger painting to fine oils, these amateur Michelangelos have exhibited many fine pictures in several art contests.

Under the capable palette and brush of Mrs. Huston, the young artists exercise their talents in producing poster advertisements for various school functions.

'Some books are to be tasted, others to be swallowed, and a few to be chewed and digested'

Are you a book worm? Even if your answer is no, you will find the atmosphere of the library very conducive to study, reference work, or pleasure reading.

The Library Club is on the job every hour school is in session. With efficiency and precision always in mind, the librarians shelve books, file cards, and try to maintain an air of quietude.

Under the able supervision of Miss Lowry, the senior members journey to Junior High monthly to assume the duties of head librarian for the day. Although the girls find pleasure in this activity, they are also gaining valuable experience in library work.

'On the shoulders of government rests our destiny'

To develop a sense of loyalty and good citizenship is the main aim of our student council. The student council strives to have a closer harmony between students and teachers.

Meeting every other Wednesday it practices all phases of democracy. The representatives are elected from each homeroom and a member from each school-sponsored club is chosen for membership.

Whether a pencil sharpener needs to be fixed, better order kept in the halls or parking restrictions need to be enforced the council is always on the job. Under the directing hand of Miss Mikesell and Mr. Fox the council's welfare activities included collecting money for Jr. Red Cross, Christmas Seals and the March of Dimes.

'To be, or not to be, that is the question'

Shakespeare's lifetime constituted an era in which drama was brought into everyday life with a fervor and interest new to all classes.

This interest still exists, for every Thursday the auditorium is filled with enthusiastic dramatic students conning lines and practicing skits under the direction of Mr. John Minnich, club advisor.

Much new talent has been found and will not go to waste, for each semester brings many opportunities for our thespians to exhibit their talents behind the footlights.

'Give me the ready hand'

The aim of the Tau Kappa Phi Sorority is to create friendship and co-operation among the girls in school and community life.

A gaily decorated school and stadium during football season, a glimmering Christmas tree in the main hall, a Cornhusker's Ball at Thanksgiving with music by the Rhythmaires, were some of the fruits of an energetic group's labors.

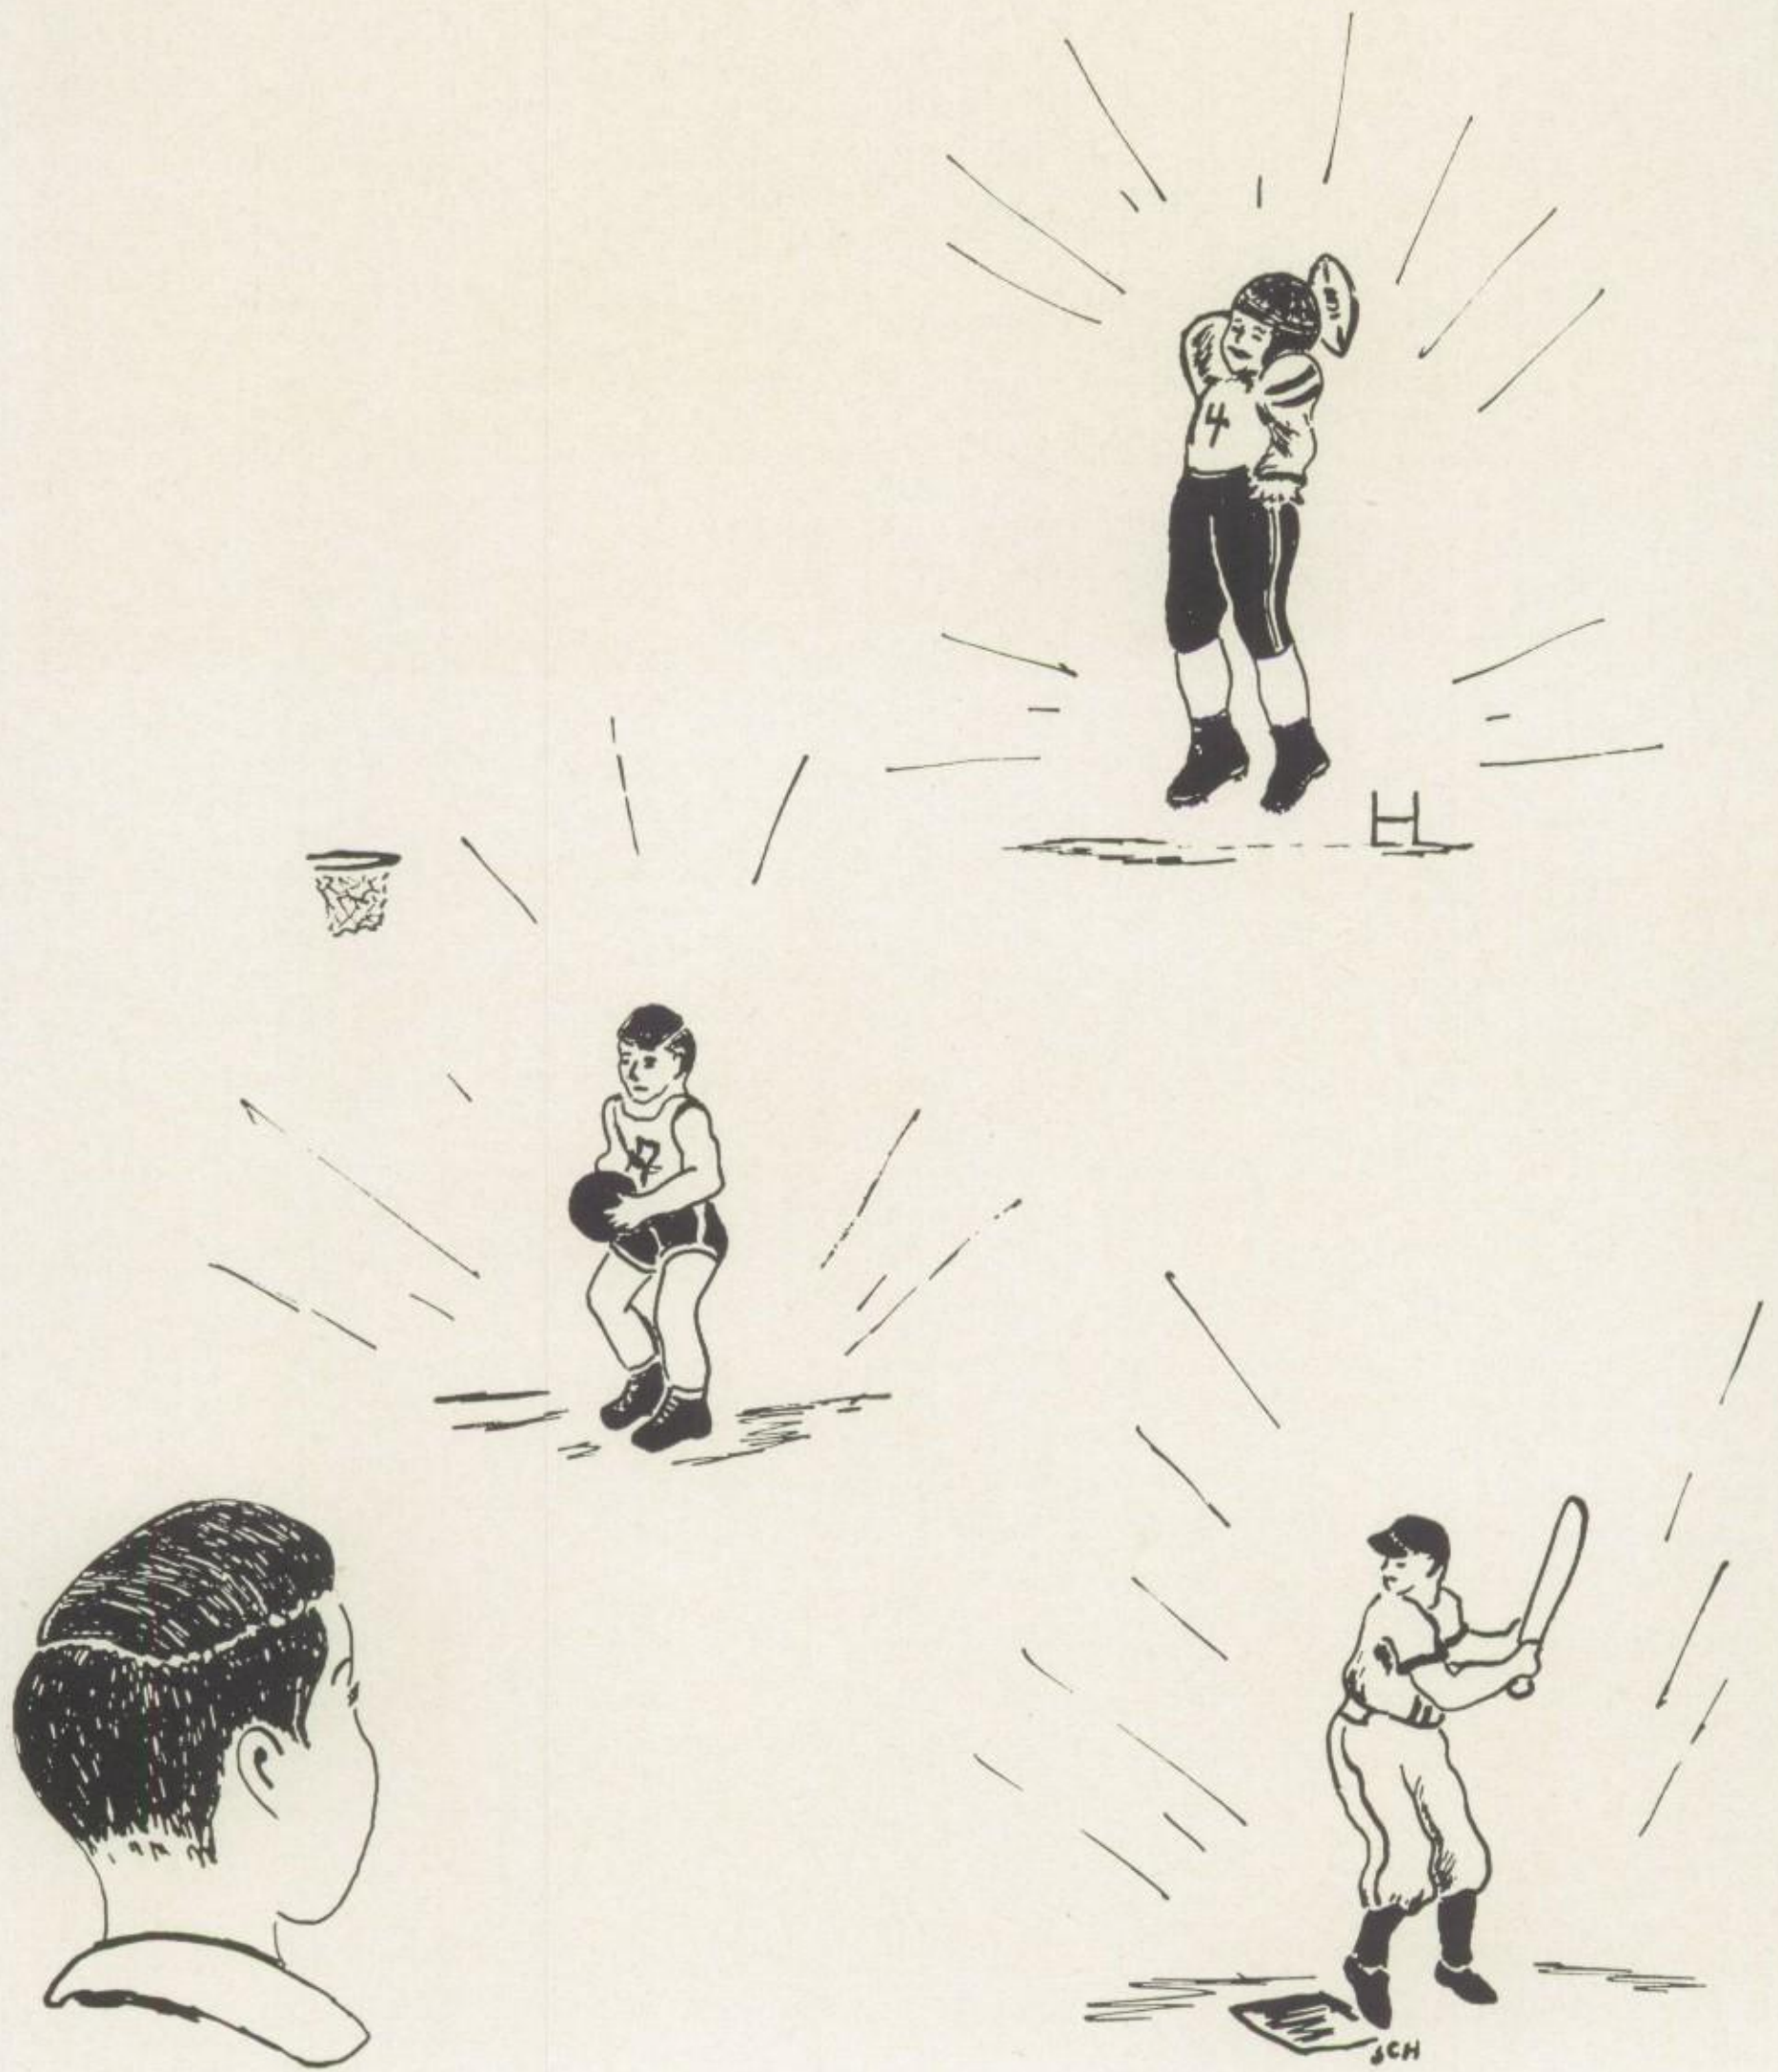

The sorority meets twice a month at individual homes for informal discussion of new projects and future meetings. As a climax to each year's activities, a farewell banquet is held in honor of the graduating members and officers.

Cheerleaders Boost Morale

The cheerleaders that followed the Tornadoes almost everywhere they went to cheer them on to their victories did a very fine job and should be complimented. Led by Roberta Wilhide and Carol Ann Myers, co-captains, they kept both the spectators and team in the true spirit of the game. Though the Tornadoes did not always seem to have the combination to the win column, the girls kept cheering to boost the morale of everyone.

Tornadoes Have Rough Season

The Blue and Gold Tornadoes ended an unsuccessful season by losing all nine games on the schedule. Though our team was light in weight in comparison with our opponents, it was still a scrappy team. Being out-classed but never completely out-fought, the boys showed a type of spirit that was admirable.

The team got off to a slow start by losing to Martinsburg 26-0. They had a good defense, but the Bulldogs were able to capitalize on almost every break.

On the first trip and the first Southern Pennsylvania Conference game, their defense began to fold under the hard pounding of the Thundering Herd. Carlisle won 49-12.

The stadium was then invaded by the Gettysburg Bullets, destined to become Conference champions, who were temporarily stymied by the teamwork and sparkling defensive play of the Tornadoes, however the Bullets went on to win 27-0.

After the good showing the Tornadoes made against Gettysburg the team's hopes began to rise, but when they took the field against the Hershey Trojans they were beaten 41-7.

For the first time during the 1951-52 season, the Tornadoes drew first blood and led Mechanicsburg 6-0, but it was short lived as the Wildcats went on to win in the second half 35-6.

Against Chambersburg and for the rest of the season the Tornadoes had to rely mostly on underclassmen, because of the loss of six varsity stars.

The Tornadoes found it hard to get started against the Chambersburg Trojans and consequently lost its 19th in a row 32-7.

Shippensburg also proved too much for the varsity and they bowed to the Greyhounds 27-13. The loss of this game meant also that the varsity had lost the struggle to stay off the bottom of the Conference.

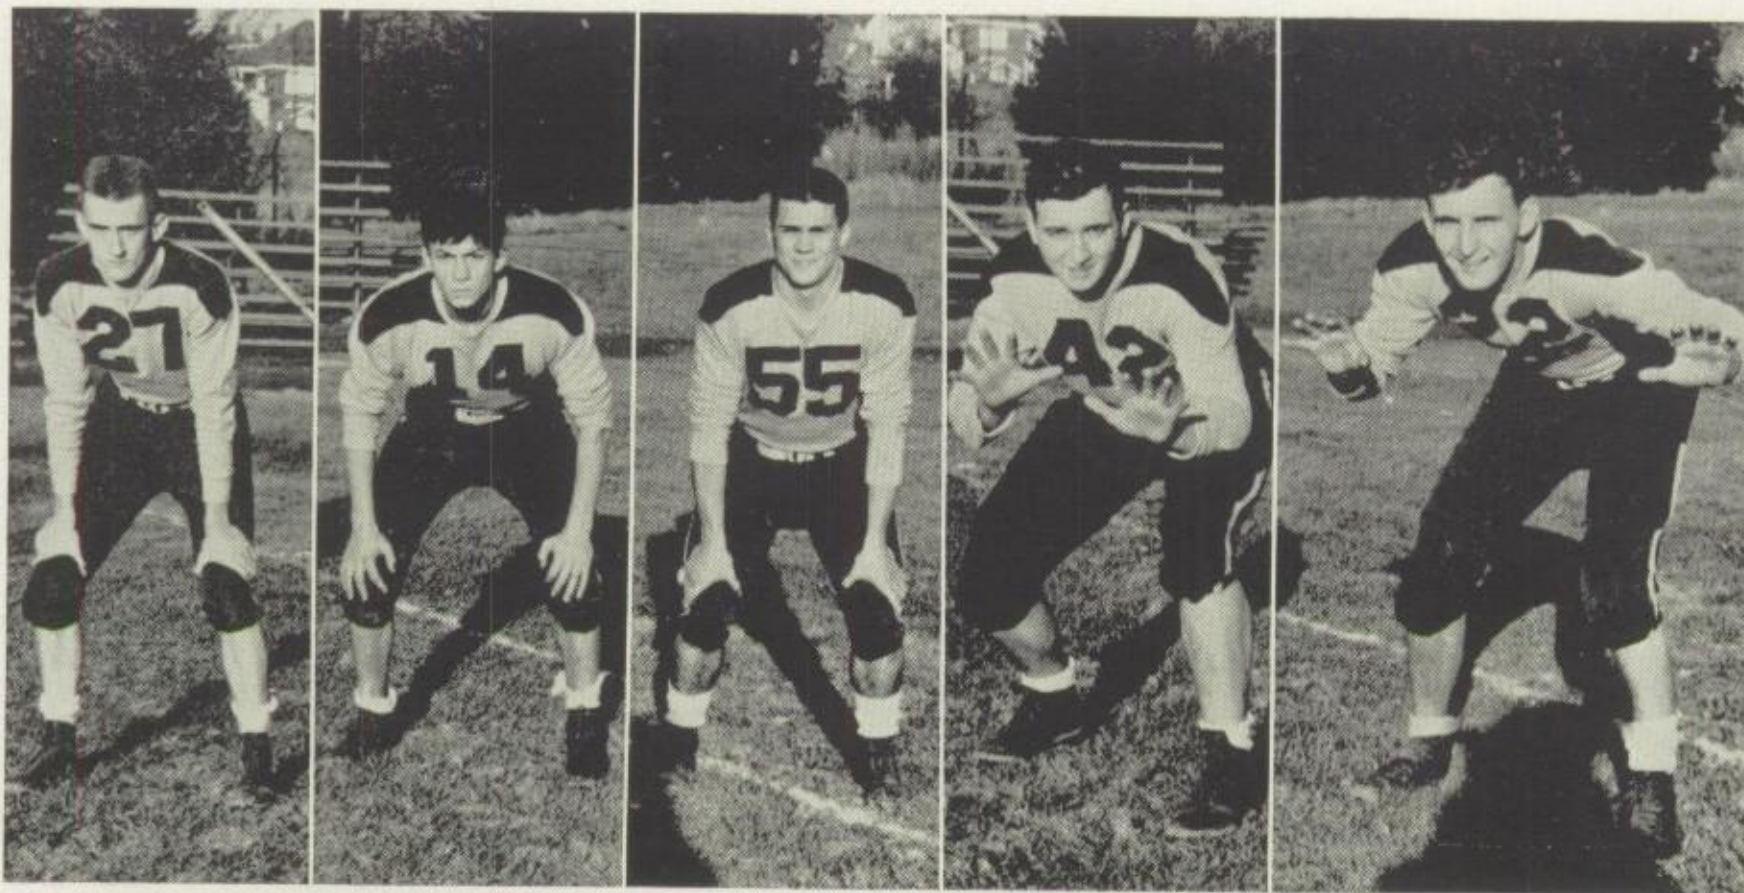

Waynesboro then invaded the Hanover Stadium, but the Nighthawk's hard-running attack whipped the Tornadoes 38-0.

For the annual Turkey-Day Game the boys practiced earnestly to try to stop the highly touted Hagerstown Hubs, but try as they would the boys from south of the Mason-Dixon laid on a grueling attack that smothered the Tornadoes in their worst trouncing of the season 58-6.

The Senior Class of 1952 wishes next year's, and all of the following years', sports teams that represent this school

—BEST OF LUCK—

Darrell Hutton—"Bo," one of the fastest men on the squad, was very good on both offense or defense.

Charles Hartle — Charlie's hard running and ability to run in a broken field was definitely an asset to the Tornadoes. He showed both fight and the will to win.

Bob Mitchell—Bob, a back, was a dependable ball handler as well as a good runner and passer.

Ralph Dinterman—Roafe's fighting spirit along with a good performance on both offense and defense made him valuable to the team.

Glen Rowe—Glen's play at tackle was a credit to both the team and himself. He played three years of varsity football.

Bill L. Smith—Bill, center for the team, was smallest senior, but was valuable on both offense and defense.

Bob Kauffman—"Spark," a lineman for the Blue and Gold, was a tremendous help on defense. His scrappy ball playing showed his determination to win.

Bob Haner—Bob, one of the tackles, played a hard game and was both faithful and dependable.

Bill Elden—Bill spent most of his time at end doing his best and showing a lot of fight.

Cyclones Come Out Winners

The Junior High School Cyclones ended a successful season by beating Littlestown 32 to 12. Under the coaching of Lewis Purnell and George Gottshall the boys had an impressive record by winning four, losing one and tying one. The only loss of the season came at the hands of Martinsburg 12 to 0. The Hanover Nighthawks played the Maroon and Gold boys to a 6 to 6 stalemate.

The experience these boys obtained should prove very valuable to the Tornadoes next year.

Little Tornadoes Find Competition Tough

The Little Tornadoes found it hard to obtain an impressive record, but made up for defeats in fighting spirit. Mr. Suhey not only took on the big job of coaching football but was also given the responsibility of coaching JV basketball. The boys all obtained experience that should be helpful to the varsity next year. They won only three games the entire year, winning over Shippensburg, Hershey, Martinsburg and dropping fifteen.

Tornado Cagers Lose Six Seniors

The Blue and Gold Tornadoes ended their 1951-52 season with a 50 per cent standing by winning ten and dropping the same number. The team was a South Penn Conference contender by ending in a tie for second place with the Hanover Nighthawks, while in the second half they occupied the fifth position.

Also during the season the Tornadoes represented our school in the District III Class B playoffs. In the first game Waynesboro defeated the Greencastle Blue Devils 54-32, but were then eliminated by a strong Camp Hill quintet 49-34.

The Wellivermen did a fine job; they gave the crowd many thrills by both winning and losing some very close ball games. Even with the loss of six seniors this year next season's team should prove one of the strongest in the South Penn Conference.

Purnellmen Lose Close Decisions

The Blue and Gold Tornadoes ended their 1951 baseball season with a 46 per cent average by winning six games and dropping seven.

Under coach Lewis Purnell the boys played a hard, fast, and thrilling game, as many of their fans soon found out.

The Purnellmen outscored their opponents in total of number of runs but were unable to win the close decisions. Five of their seven losses were not by more than two runs.

The class of '52 feels sure that if the team keeps showing improvement, under the able tutoring of coach Purnell, in the near future we shall have a championship team.

Zephyrs Have Successful Season

The Wayneboro Zephyrs had a very successful season, under the capable coaching of Mrs. Charlotte Geiser. They won seven, lost two and tied one. One defeat and their only tie came in games with the Hagerstown Hubetts, while the other defeat came at the hands of the Faculty Breezes in their annual contest. The girls did a very good job in representing our school in inter-scholastic basketball.

Girls Have Varied Intramural Program

Come on team, let's go! As one walks into the gymnasium after lunch, the shouts of enthusiastic teammates meet the ear. The girls can be found playing basketball, softball, ping-pong, badminton, bowling, volleyball and shuffleboard.

Each year all girls interested in competitive sports have an opportunity to participate in a year-round program of intramurals. Nearly one-hundred girls join annually in this worthwhile program sponsored by the Girls' Athletic Council and directed by Mrs. Geiser.

?? Who Done It ??

The other night there was a terrible crime committed. A BAKER was killed: someone hit him in the ADAM'S apple with a ROCK. No one seems to know exactly how it happened, but the GARDNER did see him walking through the GROVE with the MILLER.

Suddenly, he heard a terrible ROWE and saw a man who was all dressed in BROWN and wearing a BEARD, running away. The GARDNER couldn't be sure exactly who he was, but he said he was a dead RINGER for the POTTER who lived close by.

All the commotion attracted a large crowd and MOORE and MOORE people joined the search party. Finally by the circling of a HAUGH, the BAKER'S body was located by his FOSTER-mother deep in the WEST section of the GROVE.

Every clue, no matter how small it seemed, was TRACED down by the Sheriff. He could find nothing definite and a famous crime investigator was even consulted, but to no avail. The POTTER, naturally, was suspected by almost everyone, but nothing could be proved against him.

The crime remains unsolved. How good a detective are you? Do you know Who Done It????

CONGRATULATIONS TO THE GRADUATING CLASS

"Labor is prior to and independent of, capital. Capital is only the fruit of labor, and could never have existed if labor had not first existed. Labor is the superior of capital, and deserves much the higher consideration. Capital has its rights, which are as worthy of protection as any other rights. Nor is it denied that there is, and probably always will be, a relation between labor and capital, producing mutual benefits."

Power Farming and Sawmill Machinery

FRICK SAWMILLS

Built in four sizes, Timken and Hyatt roller bearings, adjustable carriage trucks without end-play, set works accurate to  $\frac{1}{16}$ ", and cut-steel adjustable rack bars, among many other features. See Catalog 75. Diesel and gasoline power units available.

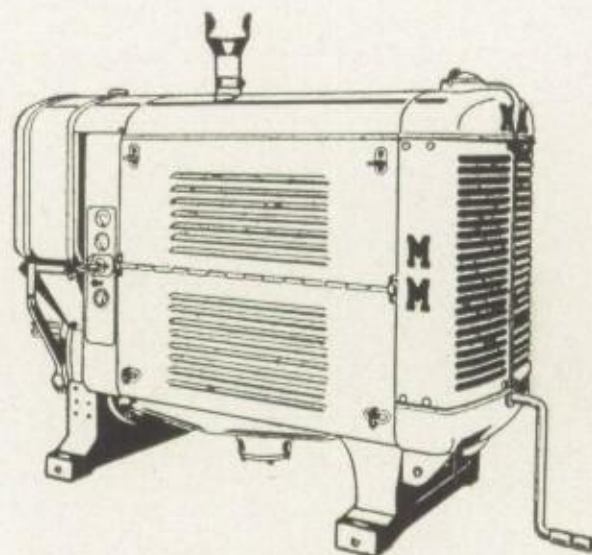

M-M TRACTORS

Are designed for power, durability, maneuverability and low operating cost. Models for light or heavy duty work, to suit your particular needs.

BEAR CAT FEED MILLS

Are light running, having self-aligning ball-bearings; the swinging hammers are cutters and hammers combined. Suitable for handling all kinds of grain and roughage. Built in 6 sizes.

M-M POWER UNITS

Equipped with heavy-duty slow-speed motors having 4, 6 or 12 cylinders. Finest obtainable for all power requirements. Fuels used: gasoline, distilled natural gas and butane. The same excellent engines used on M-M tractors.

So You Want To Go To Work And Earn A Living

Everyone has to work for a living. Will you have a business of your own or would you prefer to work for an established company? In either case you will be interested in the Waynesboro manufacturing plants and the people they employ.

Waynesboro's manufacturing plants are modern and well-financed. They are owned in most part by Waynesboro people. They are ably managed by local men who care about the welfare and safety of those who work in them. The men in management positions are always accessible to employees.

Wages in Waynesboro are good; they don't claim to beat big city rates but are above the average for the nation and employment here is much more regular than in most places.

If you live in this area a job in Waynesboro offers several advantages. Many of the people who know you and are interested in your future already work in the plants here. Your work will be where your home, your parents and friends are. Compare Waynesboro with any other industrial center. You will find it more healthy and prosperous with higher moral standards and with a far better balance between industry and agriculture.

Its 11,000 citizens support 6 schools and more than 20 churches.

In addition to numerous other jobs Waynesboro manufacturers have apprenticeships or training courses in the following crafts and lines of work:

Pattern Maker
Core Maker
Moulder
Machinist
Blacksmith

Dyer
Knitter
Cutter
